The Center for Independent Living is gearing up for their annual "Rampage" one-day wheelchair-ramp building event, which draws volunteers from all over Central Florida to build ramps for people with disabilities who have difficulty getting in and out of their homes. Rampage 2012 will be on February 25th.

SUNNY Across Central Florida host Felix Albuerne spoke to Jason Venning from the Center for Independent Living about this year's Rampage, which plans to build 14 ramps for people in need across a range of ages and living conditions. In particular, Jason discussed CIL's many community partners taking part or providing materials for the event, and how people can still get involved through donating their time and their skills to this worthy cause.
