Master Builders Care Foundation construct free wheelchair ramps

Snohomish, WA. - Caryn Kratz and Teresa Escude will watch volunteers from the Master Builders Care Foundation construct free wheelchair ramps at their homes on May 14 for the 18th Annual Rampathon event.

It will bring hundreds of Master Builders Association member volunteers to construct free wheelchair ramps for disabled, low-income homeowners all on one day.

Justin Goff of Pacific Ridge Homes will lead volunteers in building a ramp at Caryn's home (Snohomish) while on the same day Brian Holtzclaw will lead a crew to build Teresa's ramp at her home (188th St. SE).

Since 1993, volunteers have constructed more than 300 wheelchair ramps in King and Snohomish Counties.

The Master Builders Care Foundation is a philanthropic arm of the Master Builders Association of King and Snohomish Counties.

Comprised of more than 3,300 companies, the Master Builders Association is the nation's oldest and largest local home builders association in the nation.
